

On January 1, 2012, the California Transparency in Supply Chains Act of 2010 (SB 657), went into effect in the State of California. The act is designed to combat slavery and human trafficking by requiring companies to disclose information about their supply chains.

LiDestri Foods, Inc. is committed to protecting the working rights and safety of the people who produce and supply products to our company. We prohibit human trafficking and slave labor in our operations and our company standards require compliance with applicable laws and regulations. We also expect our suppliers to comply with these same company standards, and to monitor their suppliers for compliance with these laws and regulations.

Verification. We require our suppliers to audit their operations for compliance with our company standards and, as required, verify that their supply chain is free of objectionable conduct. We ask our suppliers to acknowledge in writing their understanding and acceptance of our standards.

Audit. We may conduct audits of suppliers to assure that they are in compliance with our standards.

Certification. We ask our suppliers to certify in writing, their compliance with all applicable laws, including laws against slavery and human trafficking and we will not do business with any company unable to certify compliance of the products supplied to us.

Training. LiDestri Foods, Inc. will provide training for our employees who manage the supply chain regarding our policies on slavery and human trafficking.

By taking these steps, we believe that LiDestri Foods, Inc. is showing its commitment to the global effort to eliminate slavery and human trafficking.
